1968 CAP and GOWN

SALUTING

Cap + Gown

1968

Always the Cap and Gown is intrinsically dedicated to some graduating class and the memory of some higher ideal for which that class hoped to stand. In this sense the '68 Cap and Gown is no different from any year-book of the past.

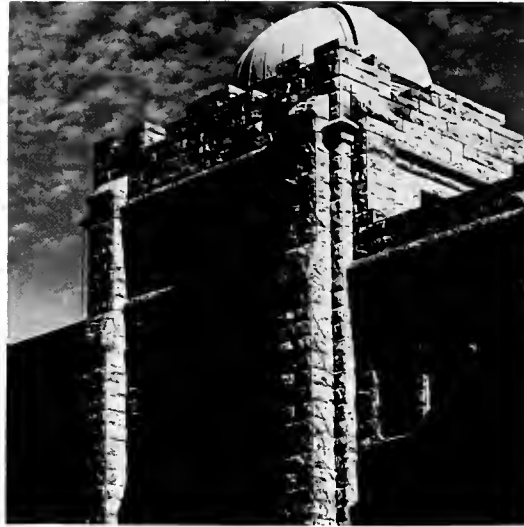

Specifically we wish to honor those who will graduate in nineteen hundred and sixty-eight, for their capacity to appreciate the great adventure of existence and for the contributions which we hope they will make.

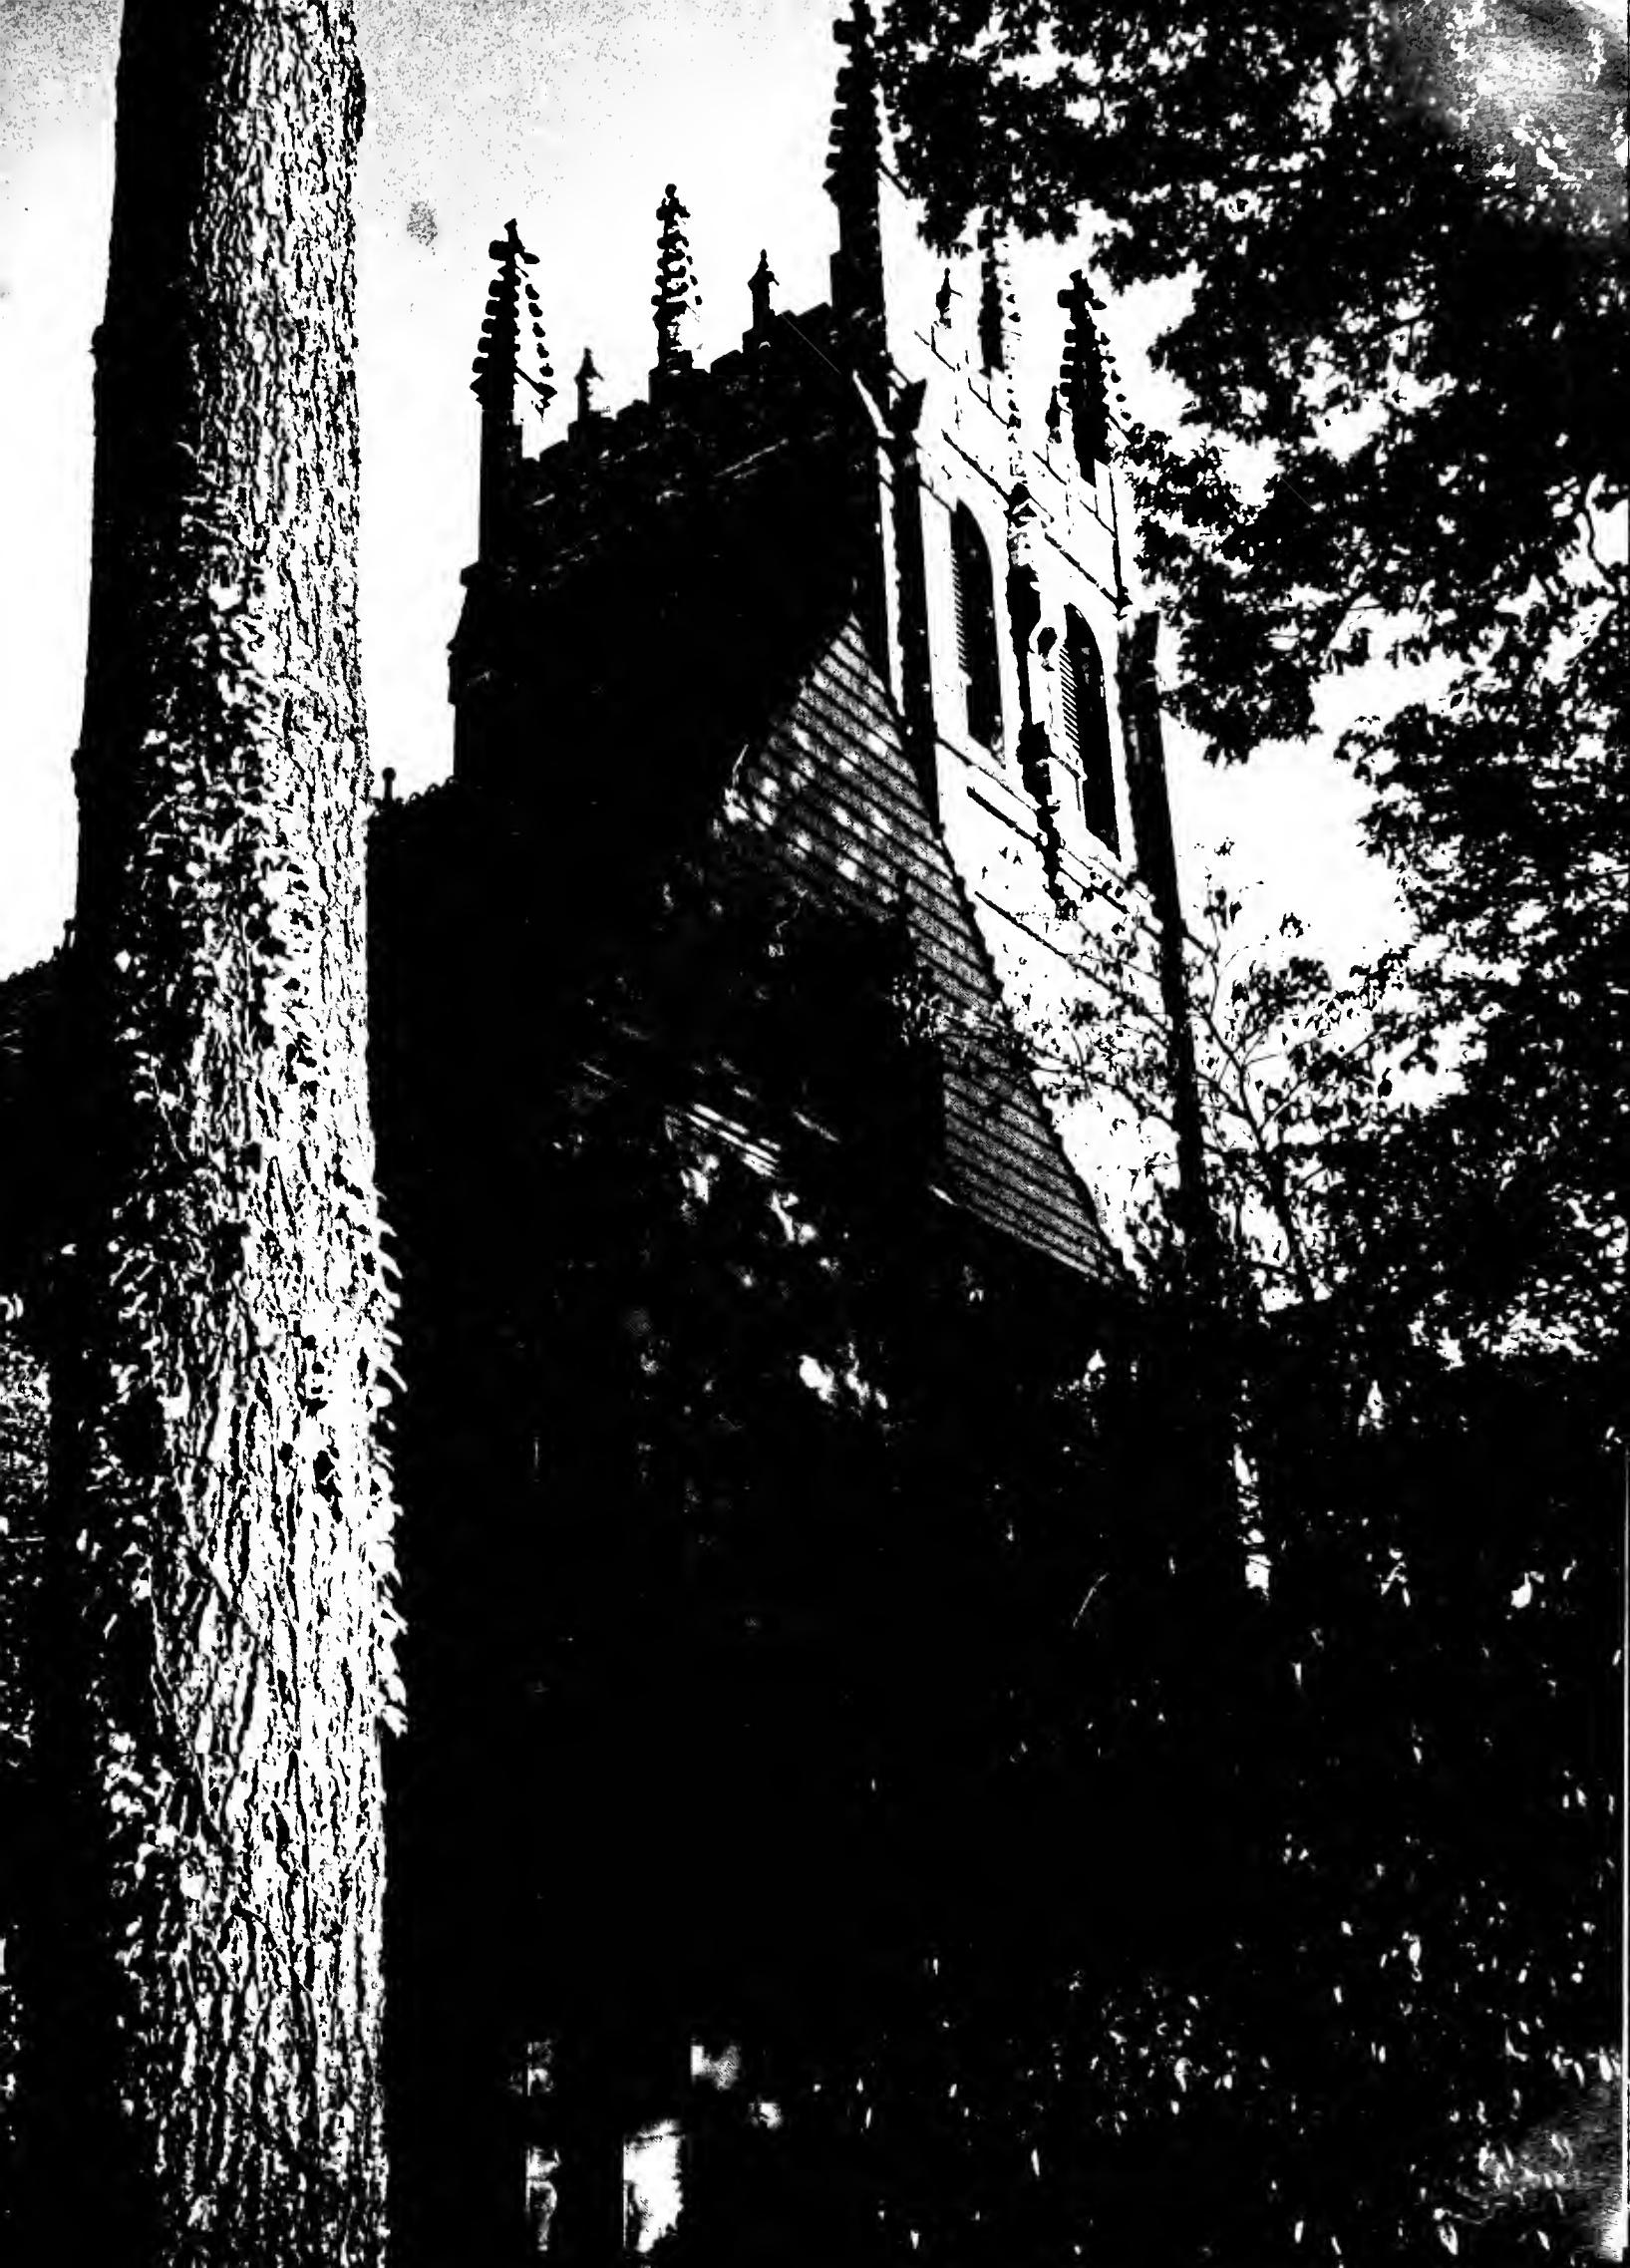

Yet in 1968 we have reason not only to distinguish our own, but to celebrate a century of distinguished men—their causes and their contributions. It is this year that marks the very special anniversary of the one hundredth graduating class of the University of the South.

Instead of devising a new thesis on old themes as is done proverbially year after every year, the 1968 Cap and Gown would like partly to resurrect the words and emotions of preceding classes. This affords a short historical summary and evokes an inevitable comparison.

Only forty years after Sewanee was founded someone made this astute observation in the 1898 Cap and Gown, "Roughly speaking, the Academs maybe divided into 4 classes: the students, the athletes, the society men, and those who don't do anything in particular. Considering the delicacy of their constitutions (judging, of course, from the 'excused account of illness' in the Proctor's books), the mortality of this body is very small."

Then there is the Cap and Gown of 1918 which published the following, "When the country called Sewanee responded nobly. Seventy-five per cent of our last year's student-body are with the colors. 'The Rovers of the South' now rove the world, and in almost every branch of the service may be found representatives of the Church University set upon a hill . . . The spirit of the Old South, risen from the hunts of the storied past, again is making glorious history."

In 1928, the Cap and Gown included a section on the ABC's of Sewanee, part of which is reprinted here,
 "A IS FOR Auto, a Frosh can not own one.
 C is for Chapel and Cuts if you're missed.
 E is for EQB Club where they bull—
 H is for History now so easily passed.
 P are the Proctors, deaf, blind, and dumb.
 Z is for Zero, a grade got in Math."

The tone of the 20's evaporated like smoke, however, in the 1948 Cap and Gown: "But however dark the hour might have been, Sewanee has never lacked the two elements most essential to her genius—men and ideals."

Finally, in 1958 one editor summed-up many feelings when he wrote into the Centennial Edition of the Cap and Gown, "Nostalgia is something we should never know because after it has blinded us it will leave us with the loneliest awareness of a faintly remembered sensation in unrevisited place. When we have gone from the Mountain two or three years we will have memories of . . . trips, of groggy mornings, of incredibly unattractive blind dates, of Abbo classes, of a bare light in Walsh Hall at three o'clock in the morning with its desperate crammer, of owl flicks; but what is it that makes the octogenarian alumnus smile and look down and away at the mention of Sewanee?"

It is the fate of man not to be appreciated fully until after he has passed away. Such is the case with Dr. James M. Grimes and the Rt. Rev. Frank A. Juhan. These men gave of their best to the life of the University, each in his own capacity.

Dr. Grimes was a graduate of the University of North Carolina where he also received his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees. He served as the head of the history department and specialized in Ancient and Medieval history. Dr. Grimes also had been the Dean of Men before devoting his time solely to teaching.

Bishop Juhan, most fondly remembered as "the Bishop," was a graduate of the University and was a football and boxing star in his days on the Mountain. He later served as Bishop of Florida and headed the Ten Million Dollar Drive which was very successful. He was elected to the National Football Hall of Fame in 1966, the second Sewanee man ever to receive such distinction.

The tragic loss of these two men left a void in the community and the University that cannot be replaced and it is to the memory of these men that the 1968 CAP AND GOWN is dedicated.

DEDICATION

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

This June, Sewanee will bemoan the retirement of two of her most illustrious gentlemen. Dr. Gaston S. Bruton and Dr. John S. Marshall will be stepping down after a total of sixty-five years at the University. Dr. Bruton came here from the Georgia School of Technology in 1925, and Dr. Marshall joined the staff in 1946. The University will have to search far and wide to find two men to equal the achievements of Dr. Bruton and Dr. Marshall.

Shown in his earlier years at Sewanee, Dr. Bruton was coach of the tennis team for thirty-five years.

Dr. Bruton out for a touch of gala Sewanee night life.

Dr. Gaston Swindell Bruton, Provost and Vice-President, The University of the South.

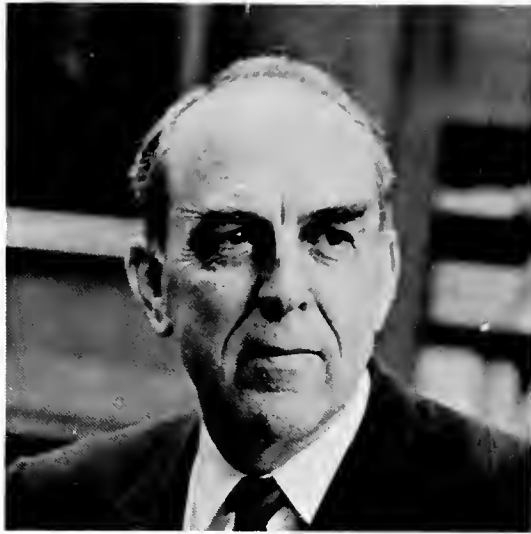

Dr. John Sedberry Marshall, Head of the Philosophy Department.

At the beginning of twenty-two years at the University.

Dr. Marshall at his best.

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

THE CHANCELLOR

The Chancellor of the University of the South is elected by the Board of Trustees from the bishops of the University's twenty-one owning dioceses. The present Chancellor is The Right Reverend Girault McArthur Jones, Bishop of Louisiana. Bishop Jones was elected to the Chancellorship this past summer and is presently serving his first year in this position. Although not a graduate of the University, Bishop Jones has had many ties with Sewanee for a number of years before becoming Chancellor. He holds a B.A. from the University of Mississippi and served as Bishop of Louisiana since 1949.

As in the English tradition, the Chancellor of the University is burdened with few administrative responsibilities. He serves as the titular head of the University, as President of the Board of Trustees, and as an ex-officio member of the Board of Regents.

RT. REV. GIRAULT M. JONES

THE VICE-CHANCELLOR

Sewanee is indeed fortunate to have at its head a man who is the epitome of the Sewanee gentleman. Dr. Edward McCrady is the eleventh Vice-Chancellor of the University and is the model of a well educated, well rounded man. Dr. McCrady is an expert biologist, an accomplished violinist, an artist and a woodcarver. His other talents range from architecture to speleology and theology.

Dr. McCrady received his B.A. from the College of Charleston, his M.S. from the University of Pittsburgh, and his Ph.D. from the University of Pennsylvania. Before he took the office of Vice-Chancellor in 1951, Dr. McCrady was chairman of the University's biology department and a chief biologist in the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies. As Vice-Chancellor he serves as the president of the University Corporation and is the University's top administrative officer.

President of the Order of Gownsmen, George Hart, carries the mace of the University for Dr. McCrady.

First Row: Dr. Edward McCrady, Gen. L. Kemper Williams, Rt. Rev. C. C. J. Carpenter, R. Eugene Orr, G. Allen Kimball, Harvey G. Booth. Second Row: Rev. Dudley Colhoun, Rt. Rev. G. M. Murray, Rt. Rev. R. R. Brown, Henry O. Weaver, Rev. H. C. Gosnell, Rev. C. F. Schilling, R. G. Snowden.

BOARD OF REGENTS

The Board of Regents is elected by the Board of Trustees and is the executive board of the University. It is composed of three bishops, three priests, and six laymen of the Episcopal Church, with the Chancellor and the Vice-Chancellor serving as ex-officio members. This board performs all duties dealing with the government and the maintenance of the University, except those which are particularly reserved by the Board of Trustees. This Board holds three meetings a year at Sewanee, one at the beginning of first semester, at the beginning of second semester, and the final one during graduation.

It was under the supervision of the Board that the Ten Million Dollar Campaign was coordinated. At each regular meeting the Board maintains the policy of conferring with the leaders of the student body. In this way the voice of the Sewanee man has an effect on the governing policies of the University as a whole.

PROVOST

Since first coming to the University in 1925, Dr. Bruton has contributed to all facets of Sewanee life. As Provost, he is the second-ranking administrative officer in the University. Besides this position, Dr. Bruton has been chairman of the mathematics department, tennis coach, and is in charge of handling all of the bids and memberships of the Ribbon Societies. 1968 will be Dr. Bruton's last year as the Provost and he will be sorely missed as an officer and as a man.

GASTON SWINDELL BRUTON, Ph.D.

ROBERT SAMUEL LANCASTER, Ph.D.

DEAN OF THE COLLEGE

Dr. Lancaster has resumed his duties as Dean of the College after a two year absence. He spent one year on a sabbatical leave and one year as Acting Director of Development. Dr. Lancaster is responsible for the academic rules and requirements of the University. In addition to these duties he is a professor of political science and a widely sought after speaker.

JOHN MAURICE WEBB, Ph.D.

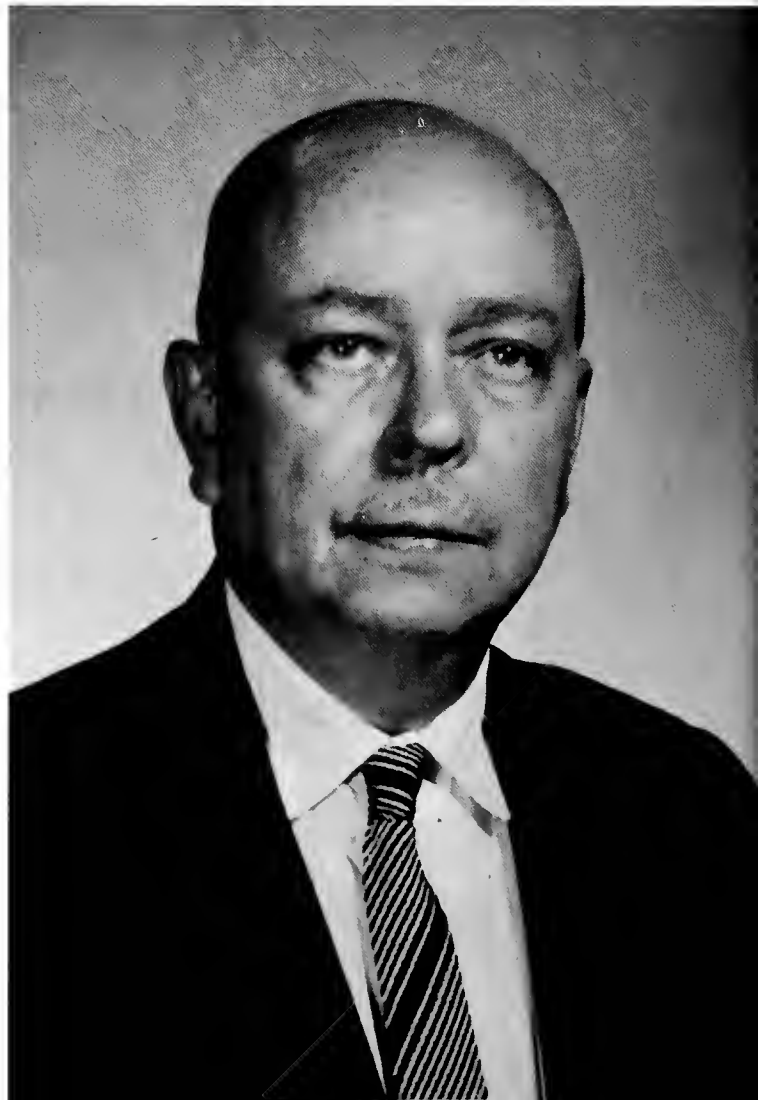

DIRECTOR OF ADMISSIONS

It is the responsibility of Mr. Ransom to interview and to rate the applications of the incoming freshman class, and through his efforts he manages to maintain the high standards of the Sewanee man. He has the ability to know each incoming student on sight and remains a friend and advisor to every student throughout his four years on the Mountain.

DEAN OF MEN

With the return of Dr. Robert S. Lancaster, Dr. Webb has returned to his former post, that of Dean of Men. In this position he is responsible for the counseling of students, disciplinary problems, and room assignments. In addition to this, Dr. Webb is a member of the Publications Board, the local draft board, an American History professor, and acting head of the history department.

University of the South
Sewanee, Tennessee

Dear Mr. Tunnell:

Thank you again for inviting me to help serve as judge for your 1968 Miss Sewanee contest.

As requested, I have selected three winners, and have marked the pictures accordingly.
Judging from pictures alone is quite difficult and perhaps not the fairest way, and I do hope the other contestants are not too disappointed.

Congratulations and best wishes to all the girls.

Sincerely,

FOOTBALL

With Mike Knickelbine blocking, Jim Beene dives for a touchdown against Hampden-Sydney. Both Beene and Knickelbine were All-Conference performers on defense and saw double duty on offense.

The 1967 Tiger football squad capped a successful season with a victory over Washington University for their fourth College Athletic Conference championship in five years.

Coach Shirley Majors' outfit defeated the Bears 28-9 to finish the season with a 5-3 mark as well as the conference title. Though losses to Millsaps, Austin and Southwestern ruined hopes of a perfect season, decisive wins over Hampden-Sydney, Fordham, Centre, Washington and Lee and Washington University made the season a rousing success after the 1966 team's dismal 2-6 mark.

The season started on a sour note in the opening game against Millsaps when Billy Godfrey booted a field goal late in the fourth quarter to give the Majors a 10-7 victory. The Tigers moved the ball extremely well, but were victimized by costly fumbles and interceptions.

The Hampden-Sydney defense gets to Beene as he completes another of his favorite plays—the single wing tailback sweep.

Fullback Bubba Owens breaks through the Hampden-Sydney line for a good gain as tackle Dan Callahan moves in to cut down an opposing linebacker. By breaking loose on such plays as this one, Owens became the Tigers' top rusher in the 1967 season.

Two photos illustrate why opposing defenses fear Sewanee's single wing attack. The play develops as Bubba Owens and Rusty Adcock block the Washington and Lee defensive end to the outside. Mike Knickelbine and Alan King move the tackle inside and the pulling guard leads the play.

The Tiger defense was aggressive and hard-hitting, almost completely shutting off Millsaps ground attack in contrast to the 40 points allowed the Majors in the 1966 game.

Key play in the Tigers' touchdown drive was a 32-yard pass from tailback Charlie Gignilliat to Marshall Boon setting up Gignilliat's one-yard scoring run.

The next weekend Sewanee turned the tables on the visiting Hampden-Sydney Tigers, recovering four fumbles. Two long scoring drives and a defense, led by linebacker Shropie Dunaway, that consistently came up with big play were the key factors in the victory.

Jim Beene directed the first Tiger drive and Gignilliat was in the tailback slot for the clinching touchdown march.

The Tigers then defeated the Fordham Rams 51-7 in a game billed as a battle between the present-day non-subsized squads of former major powers.

Sewanee moved the ball almost at will on this warm October day and stopped all but one Fordham threat. Beene led the offensive attack with 119 yards in 18 carries. The defensive line, led by sophomore guard Dell Weible, kept pressure on the Fordham passers, setting up five interceptions.

Austin College, however, put a stop to the Tiger win streak the next Saturday, downing Sewanee 29-6. Playing on their home field, the Kangaroos unleashed a balanced passing and running attack, while Sewanee was able to mount only one sustained drive.

Austin, chosen almost unanimously as the Tigers' toughest opponent, featured the running of fullback Mike Maloney, the pass catching of Roland Rainey and a hard-charging offensive line.

Coming back from that defeat the Tigers rolled to a 28-6 victory over Centre, the pre-season favorite in the College Athletic Conference. In his best game so far Gignilliat romped for 113 yards and completed seven of nine passes. Pulling guard Winston Sheehan also played his best game, opening the way for many of Gignilliat's jaunts.

The play is completed as Winston Sheehan, Sewanee's All-CAC guard turns up the hole just before All-Conference tailback Charlie Gignilliat powers his way through for a substantial gain in Sewanee's 43-0 Homecoming victory.

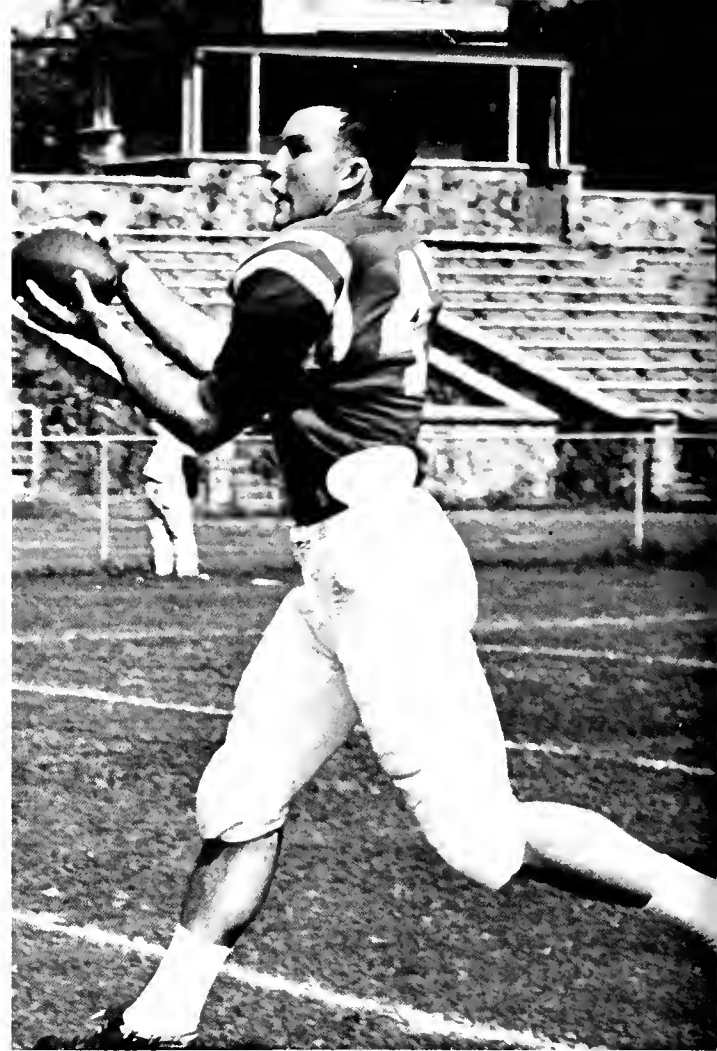

It was a bad day for Joe Lamonica, the Colonels' All-Conference quarterback. The senior field general completed only four passes in the game and tossed one more than that into the hands of Sewanee defenders. Defensive halfback Bill Blount led the defenders with two interceptions.

Very little went wrong for the Tigers that day in Danville, but in Memphis the following week for their third straight road game, very little seemed to go right for Sewanee in a 31-16 loss to Southwestern.

Despite controlling play in the first half, the Tigers could manage only an 8-7 lead. In the second half the Lynx took over with Randy McKean, another All-Conference quarterback, riddling the Tiger defense with passes to Little All-America split end Scott Arnold, flanker Bubba Clark and tight end Randall Mullins.

The Lynx, who wound up last in the CAC's tightest race ever, were clearly "up" for their Homecoming battle with Sewanee, but on a cold Homecoming day at Sewanee the next week it was the Tigers who were "up."

Marshall Boon, No. 47, tied his own Sewanee record for most receptions in a season, grabbing 29 for the second consecutive year.

The Tigers smother Washington University's running game in the victory that wrapped up Sewanee's fourth CAC title in six years. Defensive end Jim Ensor turns the play in and linebacker Dean Holland makes the tackle.

Sewanee's pass defense smothers Fordham's Michael Byrnes after the big end caught a short pass. Linebacker Dean Holland, defensive halfback George Hart and safety man Jim Beene are among those in on the tackle as other Tigers pursue.

Adcock makes one of his many tackles on kickoffs in the Fordham game as Blount moves in to lend help.

Mike Underwood, Tiger place kicker and All-CAC center, kicks off as Rusty Adcock and Bill Blount, two stars of the kickoff coverage team begin the charge downhill.

Smarting from the loss to Southwestern, the Tigers were never sharper in that Tuesday practice that often is said to show how a team will play the following Saturday. Building up momentum through the week, the Tigers went into the Homecoming game more than ready for every Washington and Lee challenge.

Taking control quickly, Sewanee rolled up 334 yards on the ground and another 134 passing. Six sustained touchdown drives and Mike Underwood's "toe" put 41 points on the scoreboard and the defense added two more on a safety after blocking a Washington and Lee punt.

Sophomore fullback Nathaniel (Bubba) Owens was the star, rushing for 142 yards in 16 carries and highlighting his performance with a 53 yard dash for Sewanee's third touchdown.

That game set the stage for the showdown with the Battling Bears. The early momentum belonged to Washington, but placekicker Steve Oliver failed to convert the opportunities into points when the Tiger defense stiffened on third down.

Sewanee scores again in the W&L rout.

Tiger punter Ernest Kirk gets one off against Southwestern as fullback Bubba Owens watches for intruders. Dan Callahan blocks and Marshall Boon heads downfield to cover.

Kirk, a defensive standout throughout his career, dives over the top for Sewanee's last touchdown of the year. This score assured the Tigers of a 28-7 victory over Washington University.

The momentum shifted when linebacker Dean Holland grabbed his fifth interception of the year late in the second half and the offense converted it into a 7-0 halftime lead.

Oliver finally hit a field goal in the third period and the Bears added a one touchdown in the fourth, but the Tigers scored three more times and each time Underwood's kick was perfect.

For eight seniors it was a fitting end to a long collegiate career. Mike Knickelbine finished his third season as a starter, doing double duty on offense and defense, and was chosen team captain. Gignilliat, who broke 1963 Little All-American M. L. Agnew's total offense record, and defensive star Ernest Kirk were chosen alternate captains.

Other seniors were Tom Pope, Mike Underwood, Rusty Adcock, George Hart and Chap Wasson.

Knickelbine, Beene, and tackle Tim Hubbard were named to the All-CAC defensive team, while Gignilliat, Underwood, Sheehan and Boon were selected to the offensive unit.

Senior wingback Chap Wasson waits for the pass from tailback Robert Akin in the Fordham game. Chappy romped for 19 yards on this play.

Rusty Adcock, a blocking back most of the season, but very successful in his brief appearances at tailback, gets loose for a good gain against Fordham. Blockers include Tim Hubbard, Pete Enwall, Winston Sheehan and Walter Merrill.

BASKETBALL

The 1967-68 Sewanee basketball season was the kind that makes one look forward to next year.

After a fast start, coach Lon Varnell's youthful Tigers ran into the tougher portion of their schedule and could manage only a 7-10 won-lost record.

The Tigers opened at home with a 79-68 victory over Centre. Junior guard Frank Stainback paced the attack with 21 points and Barney Hudson, Ron Shelton, Mark Armstrong and Mike Burton also hit double figures.

David Lipscomb used hot outside shooting and a fast break to hand the Tigers a 79-68 beating in Nashville.

Visiting surprisingly tough Georgia State, Sewanee trailed most of the game, but Hudson's hot shooting pulled the game out in the final three minutes. The 5-11 freshman wound up with 33 points in the 68-67 victory.

McKenzie proved no match for the Tigers, who handily won a 91-72 victory to go back on the road with a 3-1 record.

First opponent on the pre-Christmas trip was Lambuth. The Tiger guards—Hudson and Stainback—were never sharper, hitting 22 of their 34 long jumpers. Stainback's 15-footer with four seconds to play gave Sewanee a 67-65 victory and a 4-1 record. Hudson wound up with another 33-point performance and Stainback added 25.

Travel and three games in five days took their toll, however as Sewanee dropped its last December game to Kentucky Southern, 74-70.

Returning from the holidays, the Tigers again downed Georgia State, then faced powerful Florida Southern. The Moccasins proved to have too much manpower and a 19-point halftime lead was plenty of cushion for the visitors, who went on to a 91-65 victory.

Arch-rival Southwestern handed the Tigers their fourth defeat, winning 72-58 in Memphis. Next Birmingham-Southern came to the Mountain to renew another traditional Tiger rivalry. Sewanee led with 6:47 to play, but a quick surge gave the Panthers a 74-64 win despite Hudson's 25 points.

The game gets under way; center Ron Shelton easily controls the opening tip against Georgia State. Forward Fred Jones is set to receive the ball.

While the Tigers took three weeks off for exams, the Panthers continued to play a heavy schedule and when the teams met in Birmingham, Sewanee was no match for this veteran team, which fast-broke its way to an 87-62 victory.

The Tigers then evened their record at the expense of a potentially strong Rollin's team. Four men hit double figures with captain Stainback leading the way with 19.

Next came the victory that ranks with the Lambuth victory as the high point of the season. Meeting David Lipscomb for the second time, the Tigers took the lead with nine minutes to play and remained in control the rest of the way, winning 65-56.

Southwestern then invaded and handed the Tigers a 77-55 setback, Sewanee's first loss ever to the Lynx in Juhan Gymnasium.

Then, in the final regular-season game, the Tigers were handed an 81-76 loss in two overtimes by Piedmont College. The Tigers controlled the boards and had the winning shot roll off the rim at the end of the first overtime, but a Piedmont surge in the final five minutes cost them the game.

The CAC Tournament followed with three nights of exciting basketball in Juhan Gymnasium, but the Tigers were twice on the short end of the score. Southwestern defeated the Tigers 69-64, despite a second-half Sewanee rally. Alternate captain Jones led the Tigers with 17.

In the third place battle senior forward Mark Armstrong sparked the Tigers to a 38-32 halftime margin, but a 15-point second half by Sewanee gave Washington University a 59-53 victory. Armstrong closed his career with 17 and high-point honors.

Forward Fred Jones, the Tigers' top rebounder, gets open for a layup against Birmingham-Southern.

#College Athletic Conference Tournament

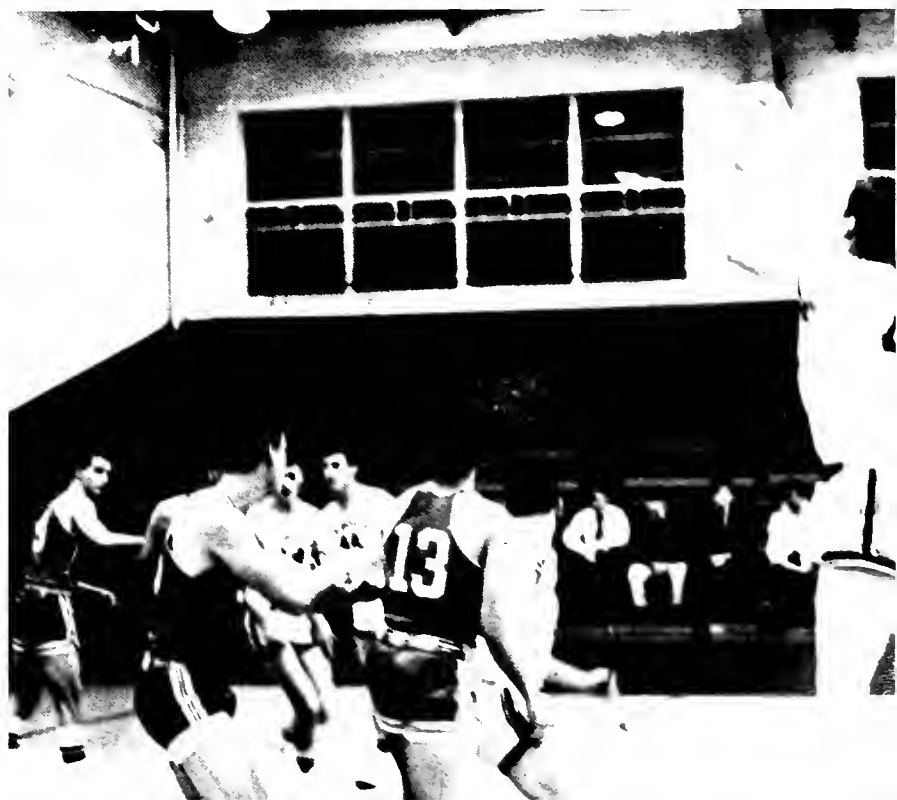

Captain Frank Stainback gets off a short jumper against Birmingham-Southern.

Gary Sparks, 1967 College Athletic Conference MVP, drives against freshman Mike Burton.

The outside shooting of Tiger guards Barney Hudson and Frank Stainback was one of Sewanee's strongest points in the 1967-68 season. Here Stainback is open for a shot over the Georgia State defense.

SWIMMING

The swimming team splashed their way through a tough schedule to a 4-3 record and second place in the CAC championship.

The small squad had to overcome the internal difficulties posed by lack of numbers and experience as well as the problems of stiff competition. Victories were posted over Louisville, Chattanooga, DeKalb, and Emory. Losses were to several powerful SEC teams Alabama, Tennessee, Vanderbilt, and Kentucky and other top regional independents Georgia Tech, Tulane, Eastern Kentucky, and South Florida.

Outstanding for the Tigers was captain Doug Baker. Baker proved himself to be not only a fine hard working swimmer but also a superb leader. Swimming the 200 and 500 yard freestyle events Baker ran up a total of 116 $\frac{3}{4}$ points.

Another Tiger superlative was ace backstroker Rick Dent. Dent lowered his own school records in the 100 and 200 yard events to 58.7 and 2:14.0 respectively. He also doubled in the sprints and was a member of the record breaking medley relay team.

The medley relay team which lowered the school mark to 3:59.0 was composed of Rick Dent, Randy Love, Doug Vanderbilt, and John Colmore. Notching the record book twice during the course of the season, the final time was posted in the CAC championship. By virtue of this relay Sewanee edged out Washington University 118-116 to take runner-up honors in the meet.

Breast-stroker Love puts on his final sprint in finishing his final length of his 100 yards.

WRESTLING

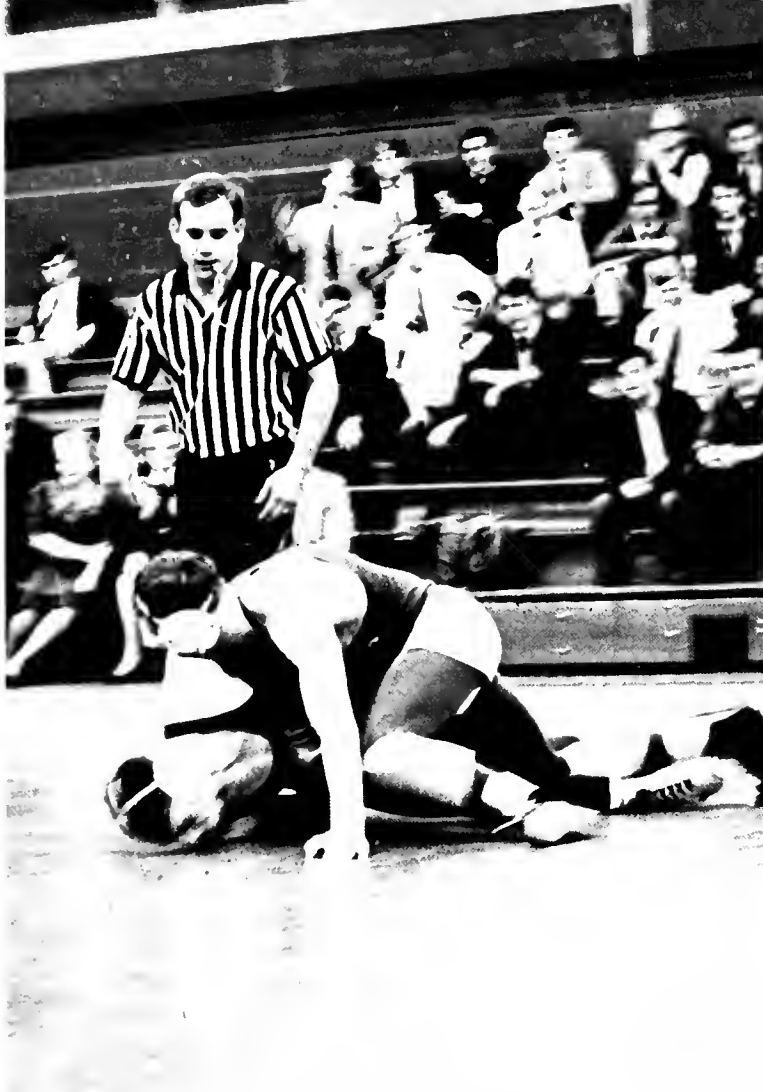

The Sewanee Wrestling team started the year with a relatively young squad, made up largely of sophomores and freshmen. The teams' greatest problem was a lack of match experience.

The season started off well with a 32-10 victory over a young Washington University squad. However the next four matches proved to be a different matter as the Tigers lost all four. The University of Georgia won a close contest by a 20-16 margin. Following this the Purple lost two meets by identical 19-23 scores on successive nights to Millsaps and Maryville. After the semester break Auburn University, in the worst match of the season, blanked the team 33-0.

Under the leadership of Captain Jack Baker and Co-captain Tee Parker the Tigers came back to win against Troy State 21-18. This match marked a turning point for the team and the last two matches were won by Sewanee. Emory was the first victim by a score of 24-14 and five days later Chattanooga fell 25-11. The regular season ended with a record of 4 wins and 4 losses.

The first annual C. A. C. Tournament was held at Washington University and the Tigers claimed first place and six individual champions. Sophomore Bob Green was awarded the Best Wrestler Trophy on the strength of his three pins in the 160 pound class. Tee Parker (115 lbs.), Jack Baker (130 lbs.), David Elam (152 lbs.), Bubba Owens (191 lbs.), John Colby (Hwt.), and Green were the individual champions.

With only one senior on the squad, Colby, the future looks good for the team. Coach Moore will have 11 returning lettermen of which three only will be seniors next year.

Sophomore Bob Green begins to apply the pressure against his opponent eventually leading to another win for the Tigers.

Bobby Lee uses one of his patented cross body rides to gain valuable riding time against his Troy State opponent.

The soccer team this year continued to maintain its allinity for a spirit unique among the various athletic teams on the mountain. A singular enjoyment of the game once again proved to be the team's forte, rather than the cold professionalism that so often characterizes college athletics today.

Undaunted by the absence of last year's supervisor, Sewanee functioned quite commendably under the able leadership of team captain, Richard ("Mole") Lee, who served as player-coach. Unfortunately, however, the lack of an experienced coach was evident in the team's play, and could be considered the primary reason for the 4-6-1 record this fall. It was not until the last two weeks of the season that the club began to realize fully its potential and demonstrate an excellent calibre of soccer. Even in losing efforts against such fine teams as St. Bernard College, Sewanee exhibited terrific ball control dominating the field most of the game. Bryan College, after defeating Sewanee at the first of the season, was completely outclassed by Sewanee in November. The Tigers then finished their season on a triumphant note with a victory over Vanderbilt. It was the first time in the history of the series that the Commodores had fallen victim to our club.

TENNIS

Hard work by returning lettermen and the addition of outstanding new men promise to turn the building year of the tennis team into a winning season. Coach Gordon Warden's team has lost its first two outings, a 7-2 setback to Tennessee Tech and a 5-4 defeat to Ball State. The schedule is quite ambitious as usual. The freshmen are the brightest part of the picture, as five first year men should earn their letter.

Sophomore John Parsons is playing number one this season due to his improvement, and he has split his first two matches. Other returning lettermen are Moultrie Burns, Deric Beil, Jim Burns, and John Buntin. Burns, Beil, and Buntin are all juniors while the others are in their second year. Tem Miller, Phil Eschback, Mike Burton, Bruce Bass, and Sandy Johnson are the freshmen who give the tennis team the depth it needs to be the best team in the last three years. The tennis team should be one of Sewanee's strongest teams in the years to come.

Freshman Tem Miller backhands one over the net against Ball State.

Moultrie Burns illustrates the style which made him Sewanee's number one man.

Sandy Johnson puts a little speed on the ball.

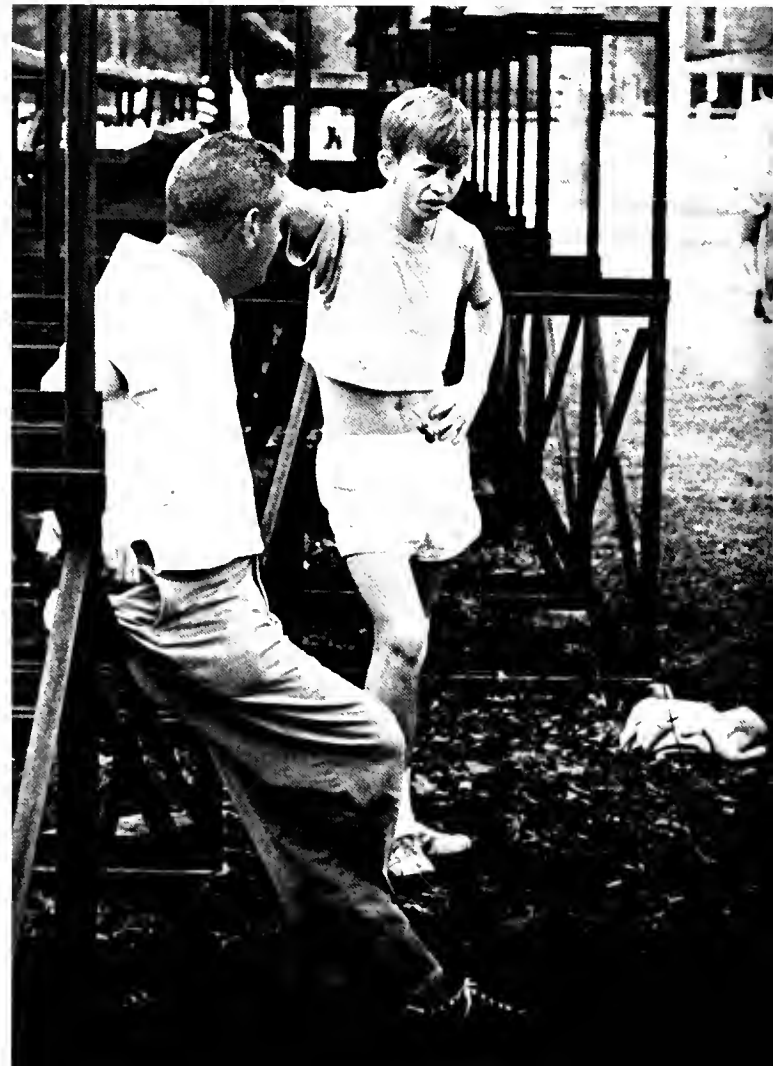

Sophomore Shot putter Dan Ahlport puts a little soul into a practice session.

TRACK

Coach Horace Moore's track team is quite small again this year, but hopes are high for a winning season and good finishes in the post season meets. Coach Dennis Meeks is helping with the track events this year, freeing Coach Moore to concentrate on the men in the field events. Four returning lettermen hold individual school records: Ron Tomlin in the 330 yards; Robin Harding in the pole vault; Chris Gardiner in the 440 yard intermediate hurdles; and versatile John Colmore in the high jump. These four men will head the assault on their own and other records this season.

Coach Moore has three other returning lettermen: Dan Ahlport, a bright hope in the shot put who recently placed third in the college division of the Tennessee Relays; Larry Dimmitt, leading the sprinters again this year; and Jim O'Conner, the team's chief hope in the javelin throw. Several freshmen such as Louis Leon, Doug Aitken, and Brad Weeks should help the team considerably, but the team remains weak in some areas, especially the distance events. The schedule has been changed considerably, and with solid performances from the returning lettermen Coach Moore may expect a winning season.

"Ah gee Coach do I have to do all that to get a letter?"

BASEBALL

The 1968 Sewanee baseball team will be out this season in an attempt to defend successfully the league championship won by the team in 1967. With a number of key players returning, the Tigers have the nucleus of a team that could better last year's fine season.

Four of the players who were voted all-CAC in last year's tournament are returning to the diamond for the Tigers. Bill Cunningham and Kesley Colbert team with Chap Wasson and Ernest Kirk to give Sewanee talented lettermen with valuable experience. Help this year is expected to come from some promising freshmen, led by Rick Van Orden and from sophomore Don Ellis. As in the past few seasons, Sewanee will depend on the hitters to win the big ball games and here the Tigers have a solid foundation that should provide a strong scoring punch.

Pitching remains the major problem as the Tigers begin spring training. Ernest Kirk is the only experienced pitcher on the squad, but help is expected from Wasson and Colbert, and perhaps Ellis. If Sewanee can come up with a respectable mound staff, they should be able to improve on last year's 15-11 season and add another conference championship to their record.

White and Colbert look forward to another rough day on the diamond.

Sophomore Bill Cunningham shows the form that made him All-CAC as a freshman.

"Well did it go in the cup or not?"

Lang watches another slow putt roll by.

GOLF

Sewanee's golf team, one of its strongest teams in recent years, has reached perhaps its fullest potential as a team loaded with talented seniors. However, two outstanding freshmen and solid sophomore and junior performers will keep the team in contention for titles in years to come. Coach Walter Bryant expects to see a close fight for the starting positions, and the top spots should change throughout the season.

At this writing team captain John Grubb is at number one followed by Don McCammon, Rusty Napier, George Waterhouse, Jack Steinmeyer, Bill Tunnell, Ed White, Allyn Lang, and Cy Quadland. Steinmeyer and Waterhouse are freshmen, and this year is sophomore Quadland's first. The others are all returning lettermen. Napier, Grubb and Tunnell leading the way with three each and these men hope to corner victories in the spring tournament at the University of Miami, the conference tourney at W&L, and the Tennessee Intercollegiate Athletic Association Golf Tournament to be held at Sewanee April 19 and 20.

FRATERNITIES

You too can feast your spirit at Sewanee.

The books are what we came for, but they are not all. Leave the grind, drop the pen; go down to the house for a beer and a game. Fraternities are by no means essential, but they are a very important part of Sewanee. This fact is obviously apparent for 68% of Sewanee men are fratrats. However, here we are different, regardless of how hard it may be to convince the national office. Here are the most socially unfraternal of social fraternities. They are groups which neither live nor eat in the houses, and who associate as much with the uninitiated as with their brothers.

A Sewanee fraternity means just what the individual member wants it to mean. Rather than being a source of faction, the fraternities are a vital factor in the unity of the student body, a unity not monolithic and anonymous, but diverse and intimately personal.

"Hope springs eternal in the human breast."

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

The Pan Hellenic Council is a standing committee of the Order of Gownsmen with its membership representing each of the twelve fraternities and the independent men.

The committee regulates efficiently the activities of the various chapters in important areas such as Rush Week and pledge training. It serves as an important faculty-fraternity liaison, and this year, as the serious problems of Sewanee's rush system have been realized, this liaison has done extensive research into more successful methods. Whatever the ultimate solution may be, an action such as this exemplifies the Council's effectiveness in coordinating the desires of fraternity men with the desires of the faculty to make life at Sewanee better for everyone.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

On September 11, 1865, Alpha Tau Omega fraternity was founded by three Confederate soldiers at VMI in Lexington, Virginia. Since then, their aim has been fulfilled as over 160 chapters have been established.

Tennessee Omega was founded at Sewanee in 1877, thus making it one of the oldest fraternities on the Mountain. Since 1877, when four of the five members of the graduating class were ATOs, the chapter has maintained a position of leadership at Sewanee. First semester, ATO finished second in scholarship out of the twelve fraternities on the mountain. During the last three years, Tennessee Omega has won the intramural trophy twice, while finishing second last year. On the varsity level, Taus are active participants in football, swimming, tennis, and golf.

The chapter is represented socially in the Wellingtons, Highlanders, and Los Peones as well as in the Red and Black Ribbon Societies. This year, as in the past, brothers have been chosen for membership in ODK, Who's Who, and Blue Key for their leadership in campus activities.

BETA THETA PI

The Beta Theta Pi fraternity was founded at Miami University of Ohio on August 8, 1839. This marked the beginning of one of the oldest social fraternities in the nation. Beta was also the pioneer fraternity on thirty-two other campuses—a record which no other fraternity can match. There are now 123 chapters of Beta, located in all sections of the country.

The Gamma Chi Chapter of Beta Theta Pi was founded at Sewanee in 1949. In 1959, the Betas moved out of their previous chapter house into a new house located on the eastern end of the campus.

In athletics, the Betas have always been a campus power, having representatives in nearly every varsity sport at Sewanee. Beta Theta Pi is also well represented in other campus organizations, such as the Ribbon Societies, Los Peones, and the Highlanders.

Through capable leadership and mutual cooperation, Gamma Chi has continued to maintain its high position in campus life at Sewanee. In doing so, it has both realized and honored the ideals of the founders of Beta Theta Pi.

CHI PSI

Chi Psi was founded at Union College on May 20, 1841. It was the fifth fraternity at Union, where the Greek letter fraternity originated, and the eighth oldest fraternity in the nation. At first largely situated in New England, Chi Psi came to the South shortly after 1845. By 1900, there were Alphas from coast to coast.

The Sewanee Alpha was founded in 1963 by Don Hickey, a sophomore in the College. Although it is the second youngest fraternity on campus, Alpha Tau Delta has always enjoyed a high academic rating. Backed by a growing membership and bright hopes, Tau Delta of Chi Psi looks eagerly to its future on the Mountain.

DELTA TAU DELTA

In the spring of 1858, a new fraternity came into existence at an old Virginia college. From the small Bethany College, Delta Tau Delta has expanded into an international brotherhood with ninety-eight chapters spread throughout the United States and Canada. On June 23, 1883, the Beta Theta chapter of the Delta Tau Delta was founded at Sewanee. Since this date, both alumni and students of Beta Theta have been active in university functions.

The undergraduate Delt's are active participants in all phases of Sewanee life. Delt's are found in such honorary groups as Green Ribbon, Highlanders, ODK, and Blue Key. In addition to participants in several varsity sports Beta Theta makes a fine showing in the race for intramural sports.

As illustrated by its participation in the various functions on the Mountain, the Delta Tau Delta chapter at Sewanee has become and continues to be an integral part of the University of the South.

KAPPA ALPHA

Kappa Alpha Order was founded at Washington and Lee University on December 21, 1865. The Sewanee chapter, Alpha Alpha, was established in 1883. The main aim of the Order is the cultivation of gentlemanly virtues and graces as exemplified in Robert E. Lee, the spiritual founder. Today his image is carried on in the person of Mr. Andrew Lytle, close friend of all the members and a true Southern gentleman.

The past several years have seen the chapter flourish in every aspect. This year's highly successful rush week resulted in the pledging of twenty new men. The intramural football team finished in second place, losing the championship game by one point. Party weekends have, as usual, seen the KA house one of the most popular on campus.

Cherishing its tradition, upholding the spirit of its founders, and proud of its rich Southern heritage, Alpha Alpha Chapter of Kappa Alpha Order looks forward with confidence, hoping not only to equal the excellence of its predecessors, but to set new goals for the members of the future.

KAPPA SIGMA

In an age of modern things, Kappa Sigma can look back over five centuries to its traditional founding at the Italian University of Bologna in 1412. After spreading to many European universities, the society gradually died out until it experienced a new awareness in the West at the University of Virginia in 1869. Since then Kappa Sigma has grown to include over 150 chapters in the United States and in Canada.

The Omega chapter at Sewanee, established in 1882 by Stephen A. Jackson, has proved to be a valuable joint in the flexible structure of the fraternity. It owned the first chapter house in the Nation and produced Kappa Sigma's first Rhodes Scholar. This year on campus Kappa Sigmas have participated in many activities. Kim Kaminski edited The Purple first semester and Kappa Sigs were elected presidents of ODK, the Jazz Society, and the Highlanders. Many other brothers were members of these groups as well as Blue Key, the Ribbon Societies, Honor Council, and the Wellingtons.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Looking into the past, the Iota Nu chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha has much to be proud of; at the same time, looking toward the future, it has a great deal to build toward.

Founded at Boston University in 1909 and reoriented toward the highest of ideals on the Founders Day, March 22, 1913, Lambda Chi Alpha is now the third largest fraternity in the Greek system. At Sewanee, Iota Nu has progressed from a colony of fourteen men in 1961 to a brotherhood of fifty-seven today.

As its seventh year on the Mountain begins, Iota Nu will open a new addition modelled after the mead halls of the Norselands. The new construction shown in the background below, will supply the open spaces the chapter needs to function best.

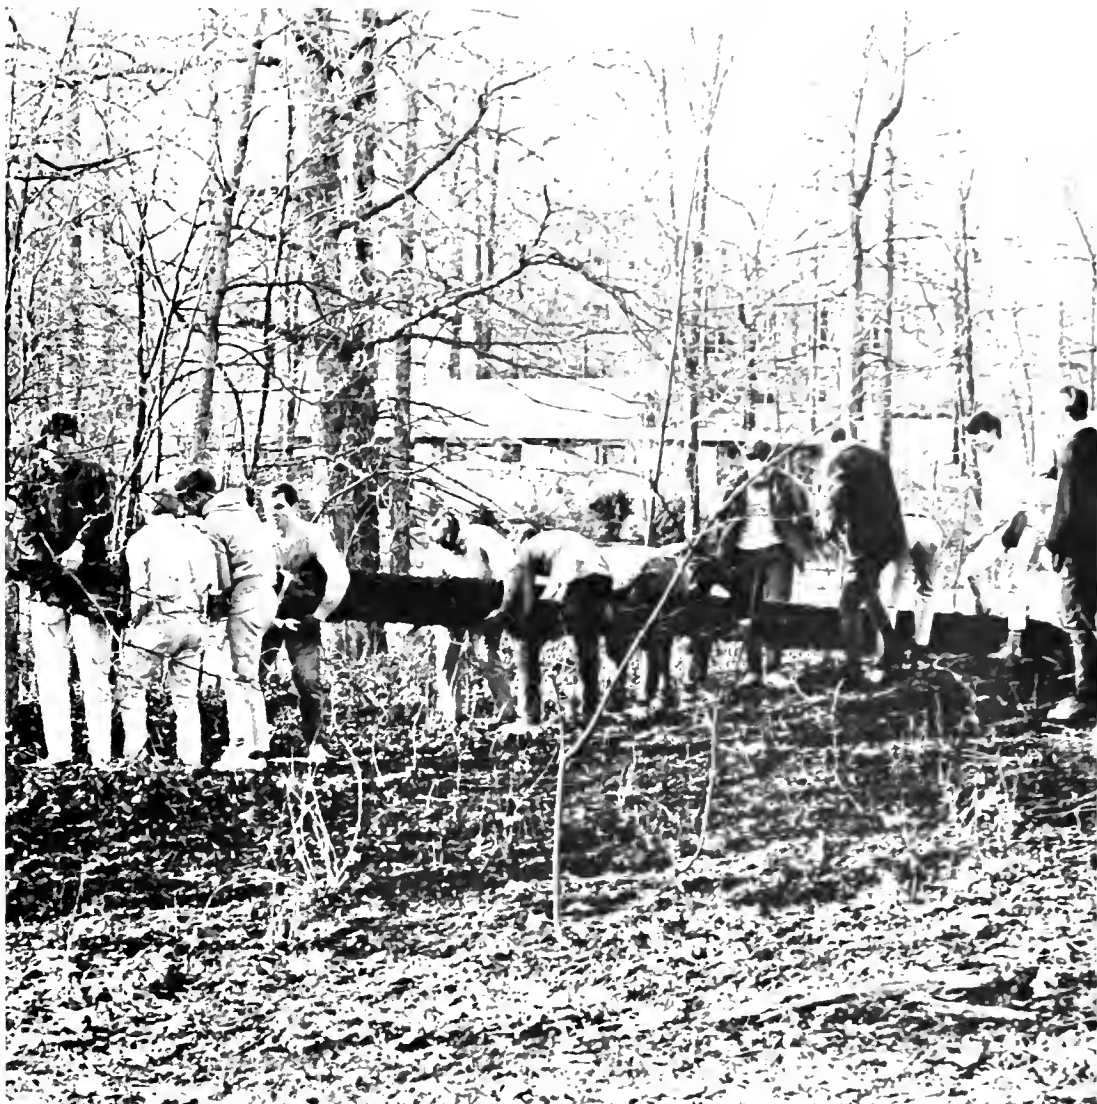

Lambda Chi, at the last reading, is first at Sewanee academically, and is known by its contingents to the wrestling and swimming teams as well as its steadily rising influence in intramurals. All these, combined with continuing efforts and success in rush, will serve to propel and inspire the open spirit and closeness of bonds among the men of Lambda Chi Alpha.

PHI DELTA THETA

Phi Delta Theta was founded on December 26, 1848, at Miami University in Ohio. The fraternity's purpose is multifold; the cultivation of fellowship, the acquisition of mental culture and the development of a personal standard of morality.

Tennessee Beta was recognized by the national headquarters in March, 1883. The Sewanee Phis thus became one of the first fraternities in the South and the first Phi chapter in the nation to own its own house. In 1907, work began on the Castle, the present house, which was modeled after Founders' Tower in Oxford.

The Phis are active in every phase of Sewanee life. This year, in addition to the editor of The Purple, the Phis have remained active, heading four committees of the Order of Gownsmen and having a proctor and members of Who's Who and Blue Key. The Phis are also strongly represented in the Ribbon Societies on the Mountain.

In the area of athletics, the Phis are equally as active. Phis participate in all varsity sports, and have made outstanding contributions to Sewanee's athletic program.

Tennessee Beta is proud of its accomplishments, and hopes to continue its tradition of excellence.

PHI GAMMA DELTA

Phi Gamma Delta was founded at Washington and Jefferson College on May 1, 1848. Today, Phi Gamma Delta is an international fraternity with 91 chapters in the United States and Canada.

The Gamma Sigma chapter at Sewanee received its charter in 1919. Since its beginning the Fijis have participated actively in all campus activities and have obtained an outstanding record in all fields. The Phi Gams for the last four years have produced the captain of the football and the basketball teams. They also boast in their membership members of Who's Who, Blue Key, ODK, Phi Beta Kappa, the Student Vestry, Sopherim, Sigma Pi Sigma, and other honorary societies plus four proctors.

To round out their campus activities, the Fijis placed high in both pledge and active scholarship with seven brothers on the Dean's List. They also won the Intramural Trophy and the Varsity Participation Trophy.

Gamma Sigma is proud of the caliber of its brothers and hopes that its men will continue the leadership ability so well displayed in the past.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity was founded on March 9, 1856, in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, by eight students of the University of Alabama. Meeting secretly at night, they formed what was to become the largest social fraternity in America.

The Tennessee Omega Chapter was founded August 20, 1881. It was the first chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon to own its own house, which was built in 1886. Having been declared a national shrine, this house burned down in 1965. Last year was Omega's first year in its new lodge, which was built on the same spot as the original.

This year, as in the past, the brothers of Sigma Alpha Epsilon have been active in a great variety of campus organizations and athletics. Numerous brothers are members of such student organizations as the Red and Green Ribbon Societies, the Highlanders, Omicron Delta Kappa, the Wellingtons, and Blue Key.

Tennessee Omega also boasts of a large number of active alumni living on the Mountain. Their capable leadership, coupled with a close, diversified active chapter and strong national affiliation have helped make the SAE's an outstanding fraternity.

SIGMA NU

Since its inception by three men at Virginia Military Institute on January 1, 1869, Sigma Nu fraternity has grown to include 144 chapters and five colonies, and has initiated over 100,000 members.

Beta Omicron was founded in 1889 at Sewanee, and existed there for a brief period. It was refounded on the Mountain in 1921, and has continued to flourish since that time, initiating over 500 men.

With the pledging of 26 new men in September, the chapter became the largest fraternity, with sixty-nine members, in Sewanee's history. This year Beta Omicron continued to place at or near the top in all phases of fraternity activity. One brother was elected to Who's Who and Omicron Delta Kappa; another served as a proctor and vice-president of the Order of Gownsmen. The chapter has been an active participant in all intramural activities, winning the cross-country meet this year for the fourth straight year.

Through its active participation in the community with such chapter events as the annual Christmas party for underprivileged children of the area and the Faculty Oyster Roast, Beta Omicron of Sigma Nu continued throughout the year its tradition of campus and community service.

GAMMA THETA

Gamma Theta was organized in the spring of 1965 as a local fraternity. The original members felt that freedom from national strings would be a distinct advantage to the brotherhood.

Having completed its third successful rush, Gamma Theta is well on the way to making its presence felt in all aspects of fraternity life on the Mountain. During its brief existence at Sewanee, the group has succeeded in capturing the fraternity academic honors on several occasions and last year was the winner of the Help Week trophy.

This year, for the first time, Gamma Theta fielded a team in all intramural sports and is looking forward to improving its record next year.

INTRAMURALS

Sewanee's intramural program is an integral part of the fraternity system, affording everyone an opportunity to participate in those sports which he desires. Eleven national fraternities, one local one, the Independents, and the Theologs compete in the various sports, vying for the Intramural trophy. Phi Gamma Delta, last year's champion, seems favored for a repeat performance.

Dominating the first semester, intramural football was marked by a rash of upsets resulting ultimately in a three-team playoff between the Phi Deltas, KAs and ATOs. The ATOs, preseason fourth place choice, defeated the Phis by one point, 13-12, to move into the final play-off game against the KAs. The PDT offense led by tailback Jim Ezell and end Tim Peters, scored two first-half touchdowns but failed to tally with either conversion. The Taus came alive in the final period, however, with MVP Chip Moon hitting Guy Griffith and freshman all-star Logan Jackson for consecutive TDs and one extra point. In the final seconds, ATO Jack Bryan intercepted an Ezell pass to clinch the victory.

In the final play-off game, the ATOs scored within the first two minutes but were then stymied as KA all-star Son Trask scored once on an interception and again in the third period with a pass from all-star teammate Nick Babson. Faced with an adverse 12-7 score, the Taus went to work in the final period as Moon hit Jeff Bailey in the end zone to insure the ATOs of their fourth consecutive football championship.

Although they finished out of the money, the Fijis placed four men on the all-star team: John Colmore, Tyler Colley, George Westerfield, and Wally Wilson.

The Sigma Nus ran away with the Cross Country crown for the fourth straight season easily defeating the second place Independents. The Indians' Reggie Bedell broke the tape two-hundred yards in front of SN Luis Leon, but a third-place finish by Dick Landrum and two other Snakes in the top ten gave SN a 33-point victory.

The Independents, fielding a surprisingly strong team, took first place in intramural swimming with fifty points, followed closely by the ATOs and LCAs with 44 each. After running second in total points for the duration of the meet, the defending champion Taus "won" the final event, the 200-yard freestyle relay, which would have given them the title. A freak disqualification, however, shattered the ATOs' chance for the number one spot. Freshman Independent Larry Sanders was high point man in a meet notably lacking in record times. He was followed by KA Wyatt Prunty, Independent Bob Dougan, SAE Haywood Patton, and ATO Wally McCall.

The Wrestling Tournament was nailed down by the Phis following victories by two freshmen, Hank Stallworth and Duke Elam, and senior Rick Smythe. Bruce Torrence and Bob Lee provided the Betas with two victories and a second-place standing overall, ahead of the third-place LCAs.

In handball the Phis were the winners as Tim Mitch took a first-place win over ATO Jeff Bailey. Mitch then teamed with Timbo Hubbard and easily outclassed all the competition for the doubles victory. In second place was Sigma Nu, followed by ATO third.

In volleyball the Faculty, which does not compete for the championship, was the number one team as Dr. Alvarez and Dr. Wilson led them to an undefeated season. However, the Phi Gams picked up the forty points towards a repeat of the I.M. championships as Henry Vruwink, Wally Wilson and Chap Wasson made the All-Star team. The Delts finished second to the Phi Gams, and the Kappa Sigs came in third. The Delts placed two on the All-Star team. Rusty Napier and Paul Prentiss. Rounding out the team were Allyn Lang, KS; Monroe Ford, SN; Marshall Boone, Beta; Bill Martin, GT; and Paul Williams, LCA.

Basketball was a runaway victory for the defending-champion Fijis. Nobody could touch them as they extended a winning streak which dates back to 1966. Although the All-Stars have not been announced at this writing, it is certain that Wally Wilson, Chap Wasson, David Norton, and Henry Vruwink will certainly be first-team choices. The Phi Delts finished second this year, while the Independents placed third.

As the Cap and Gown goes to press, there are two major sports, track and softball, and three minor ones, tennis, golf and badminton remaining to be decided. As previously stated, the Phi Gams are odds-on favorites, but crucial upsets by the ATOs or Phi Delts could place them in the winner's circle.

Sopherim is the mother chapter of Sigma Upsilon, the first national literary fraternity. It was founded at the University of the South in 1904. Its purpose is twofold, first to recognize exceptional literary understanding and performance, and, secondly to encourage creative writing and discussion at Sewanee. In this manner, Sopherim brings together all the students in the University who show an interest in literature and creative writing. This year Sopherim has its largest active membership in membership—sixteen men—and is much more active than its predecessors. It will publish its own magazine in the spring. This magazine will be comprised of the best literary efforts of the membership and hopes to become an annual publication.

Phi Beta Kappa was founded on December 5, 1776, at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia. It was the first society to have a Greek letter name, and with its beginning the basic characteristics of all such societies were introduced: secrecy oath, a badge, mottoes in Greek and Latin, a code of laws, an elaborate form of initiation, a seal, and a grip. Regular meetings were held at which the emphasis was placed on literary exercises. Social meetings were also held and anniversaries were celebrated. Many of these gatherings were held in the Apollo Room of the Raleigh Tavern in Williamsburg.

There are 160 chapters today, with a membership of over 141,000. Beta of Tennessee at the University of the South became the second chapter in the state and the one hundred and first in the nation with its formation in 1926.

Omicron Delta Kappa, leadership honor society for men, was founded at Washington and Lee University on December 3, 1914. The founders conceived of a fraternity based on all-around leadership, recognizing men in all phases of college life who should cooperate in worthwhile endeavor and meet with mutual interest, understanding, and helpfulness.

Omicron Delta Kappa was the first college honor society of national scope to afford recognition and honor for meritorious leadership and service in extra-curricular activities and to encourage the development of general campus leadership. The emphasis for membership is placed on the development of the well-rounded man and high academic proficiency. The five major phases of campus life that the society recognizes and honors are scholarship, athletics, social and religious affairs, publications and speech, and music and the dramatic arts.

Blue Key was founded in 1923 at the University of Florida. It is a national honor fraternity composed of those men who have exemplified exceptional leadership ability and high character. Membership is determined in the spring of the academic year on the criteria of scholarship, athletic achievement, and participation in student affairs. In addition, a candidate for membership must display a potential for future growth.

Blue Key sponsors a number of major activities at Sewanee among which are the Inter-Fraternity Sing and the Homecoming Queen Contest. By collecting outstanding students into a single organization, which can then work for the best interests of Sewanee, the fraternity serves a valuable purpose in campus life.

Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities was first published in 1934 in order to recognize students of outstanding ability and integrity. More than six hundred fifty colleges and universities in the United States and Canada annually have seniors represented in Who's Who, the atlas of collegiate leadership. Sewanee men nominated for Who's Who are chosen by the executive committee of the Order of Gownsmen. This committee selects students on the basis of personal character, academic excellence, extracurricular achievements and leadership ability that has been displayed.

WOODROW WILSON FELLOWSHIP

FELLOW
ROBERT LEE BOBBIT III

Since its foundation in 1945, the Woodrow Wilson National Foundation has awarded more than 14,000 Woodrow Wilson Fellowships. The purpose of the grant is to further the prospects of deserving students for graduate education, with an eye to the development of future teachers.

Any member of the academic profession in the United States may nominate a student for this award. The student then undergoes a rigid personal examination before a committee, as well as having to submit a short paper on his intellectual interests. The recipients of the award receive tuition at any graduate school in this country or Canada for one year, as well as two thousand dollars for personal expenses.

ROOT-TILDEN SCHOLARS

SCHOLARS:
GEORGE KIMMONS EVANS JR.
NOLAN CRENSHAW LEAKE

This year Sewanee was fortunate enough to have produced two Root-Tilden scholarship winners, George Evans and Nolan Leake. This raises the total of Root-Tilden scholars to ten since 1957. Nolan is a Political Science major and the president of the Speaker's Forum while George is a History major and the business manager of the Mountain Goat.

Each year twenty Root-Tilden scholarships are awarded throughout the United States to students entering upon the study of law. Two scholars are selected from each of the ten federal judicial circuits. Each scholarship is awarded on a one year basis but is annually renewable upon the Scholar's maintenance of academic standing in the upper third of his class and his fulfillment of the program's other requirements.

ORDER OF GOWNSMEN

The Order of Gownsmen consists of those students of Sophomore standing and above, who have achieved the necessary requirements of the Order. It is these students who, it is felt, have a higher sense of regard for Sewanee and her traditions and who will soon become the leaders in the changing environment. As all the graduates of this University become Gownsmen, it is hoped that they will be the ones to contribute most to her goal of attaining excellence in education and intellectual pursuits.

It is unique among student government organizations in its representation of the student body. Membership is not granted by popular election, but by scholastic achievement and standing. Only after completion of these requirements are members of the student body eligible for the Gown and the privileges that it encompasses. With these privileges is also incorporated the symbol of responsibility to try to represent the ideas and feelings of the entire student body. With this responsibility, the Order has worked this year to allow the student body at large to share in some of the same privileges that heretofore were limited to Gownsmen.

It is with this feeling of mature thought and judgment, that the Order tries to present its ideas to the administration, alumni, and regents, as those it thinks may improve the atmosphere of Sewanee for those concerned with its welfare.

As long as this understanding can be carried on at Sewanee, the Order can fulfill its function as a symbol of achievement and as a voice of the students. It will remain the job of the students of this University to have enough maturity and judgment to maintain those qualities which are worthy of retaining.

HONOR COUNCIL

One of the most treasured and important traditions of Sewanee is the Honor Code. This code, written and enforced by the students themselves, is summed up by saying that a man shall neither lie, cheat, nor steal. It exemplifies the character of the trust that has traditionally been placed in men at this school by their superiors. All students must subscribe to this code upon entering the University, and are thereby bound to it as long as they remain in the University.

The Honor Code is administered by an Honor Council composed of three seniors, three juniors, one sophomore, and one freshman from the college, and one member from the school of theology. The council meets when there has been a suspected violation of the code; and, if after a full hearing it decides that the accused party is guilty, the council has the power to ask the Dean of the College to expel the offender from school. Final appeal rests with the Vice-Chancellor.

The Honor Code at Sewanee is taken seriously by the students. Exams are not proctored. A man's work is taken as true, and trust, rather than doubt or suspicion, marks most relationships.

PROCTORS

The Student Proctors have long served as an important organization in Sewanee life. Upon them is placed the task of maintaining a proper standard of conduct in the dormitories, in chapel, in Gailor dining hall, and on the campus in general. In addition, the Proctors take upon themselves the responsibility of preserving the traditions of Sewanee. Such functions require a close link with the administration, and the respect of the student body. The outcome, to a great extent, is a self-disciplined student community.

The Proctors for the forthcoming year are nominated by the incumbent Proctors during the spring, and final approbation is given by the administration of the University. To be nominated, a student must be a rising junior or senior member of the Order of Gownsmen, as well as a responsible student and class leader. Dormitory assignments are completed for the following year by the new Head Proctor, who is likewise appointed by the administration. During the fall assistant proctors are selected, and upon them also devolve the duties of proctorship.

CAP AND GOWN

The first issue of the CAP AND GOWN was published in 1891 when some fraternity members put out a paperback edition of the fraternity rolls and an account of the record of the athletic events of the year in the University. The first hardbound edition appeared in 1895, but most of the articles were of a personal nature rather than a record of University activities. The CAP AND GOWN was not a regular publication until the post World War I period because financial problems made it a necessity to obtain a sufficient number of subscriptions before it could be sent to press. Since 1947 yearly editions of the CAP AND GOWN have been published to provide a record of the year's activities on the Mountain.

We wish to express our thanks to all the copywriters, typists, photographers, and proofreaders who put in much time and trouble to produce the 1968 edition of the CAP AND GOWN.

SEWANEE PURPLE

Since its inception in 1892, the Sewanee Purple has served for seventy-seven years as the official newspaper of the students of the University of the South. It is a weekly publication during the academic year distributed on Thursday.

Its finances are directly supervised by the Publications Board, as are all the student publications of the University. Otherwise, in keeping with the policies of its founders, the Purple is edited only by the students themselves. There has never been, nor, hopefully, will there ever be a policy of prior censorship by the University administration.

The circulation of the paper reaches some two thousand copies. One of its viable services is to inform alumni and friends, and maintain their interest in the life of the University community.

The Purple during this year has dedicated itself to the inculcation of responsible service to the University, whether it be through advocacy of change or in defense of tradition. The Editors have aimed for cogent and pointed editorialization that would provide better communication and understanding between the students, the faculty, and the administration.

Through the continuance of responsibility, the Purple has provided impetus for betterment. Its success is due entirely to the work and cooperation of the students, the University Press, and interested members of the faculty.

MOUNTAIN GOAT

This year the staff of the Mountain Goat under the editorship of Bob Kuehnle published four issues of seasonal interest. The first semester issues carried front-cover themes of football and winter weather and were distributed in November and December respectively. The second semester issues featured such predictable covers as a gloomy, rainy March and an exotic, verdant Spring. Of course the trusty ole Goat himself adorned all four covers with the unswerving forbearance cover artist Mike Stone instilled in him from the moment of his creation two years ago.

In its attempt to bring to the students of the university a humor magazine which could circulate and compete with such widely distributed publications as The Texas Ranger and the Ohio State Sundial, the staff of the Mountain Goat decided to experiment with and utilize photography for articles as it had never been used before. Staff photographer Tom Stoney contributed to the success of the magazine materially through his proficiency in the medium.

The Mountain Goat in recent years has gravitated toward humor, with an able and newly reactivated Sophomore membership taking upon itself the task of publishing a purely literary magazine. It is to be hoped that both publications will, in the coming years, provide all students with outlets for their creative talents.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD

The Publications Board is a standing committee whose purpose is to supervise all of the student publications: the CAP AND GOWN, the Sewanee Purple, and the Mountain Goat. The committee is composed of five members of the faculty and a student representative of both the junior and senior classes. In addition to these voting members, the editors and business managers of the three publications act in an ex officio capacity. The Board regulates the finances of the publications, acts as a censor when necessary, and approves nominations for the editorships of the various publications.

The Board is presided over by the Rev. William A. Griffin as chairman. Other non-student members include Dr. Charles O. Baird, Mr. Henry Arnold, Mr. Albert S. Gooch and Mr. Donald B. Webber. Junior representative and secretary of the Board is Randy Hansen and senior representative is Fred Forester. The editors who serve on the board are David Norton, CAP AND GOWN; Kim Kaminski, the Sewanee Purple; and Bob Kuehne, the Mountain Goat. The respective business managers are Billy Harrison, Bob Gribbin, and George Evans.

PURPLE MASQUE

Mr. Warren Robertson's productions have adorned the Guerry stage. Under his leadership players and audiences have shared the most strenuous plays. None can forget Pirandello's black comedy Henry IV, which, arousing in one spectator a cry of La Verité, is memorable for effective lighting, gorgeous costumes, and a cast that gave spirited support to Bob Royal's admirable King. Robertson's farewell offering and temporarily the group's last was Shakespeare's King Lear. Skeptics will recall their surprise at the clarity and propriety of this spring production.

STUDENT FORUM

In its first full year of operation, the Sewanee Student Forum, an autonomous committee of the Order of Gownsmen, has continued to serve the academic community. Its main aim is to confront and discuss issues and current ideas by inviting speakers to Sewanee as well as by encouraging local voices of opinion. The Forum consists of nine members, one ex officio, and eight of whom are elected by the group itself.

Speakers' Forum—Chariman, Nolan Leake.

Speakers' Forum—J. Jagar, C. Watt, J. Pullen, B. Gribben, G. Chamberlain, E. Schmutzer, N. Leake, R. Hausen.

D. Miller, B. Kuehnle, T. Stoney, H. Oliver, Mr. Wilson, R. Elberfeld.

Officers—Richard Elberfeld and Doug Miller.

SPELEOLOGICAL SOCIETY

Several years ago ardent cavers on the Mountain banded together to rejuvenate the Cumberland Grotto of the National Speleological Society. Since its establishment at Sewanee, the Grotto has grown considerably and has carried on weekly explorations of some of the many caves in Middle Tennessee and Northern Georgia. The Society promotes cave safety and conservation and provides a medium to bring together people interested in caving. Membership is open to all interested persons in the area.

JAZZ SOCIETY

The Sewanee Jazz Society was founded in 1958 by a group of students and faculty members drawn together by their common interest in jazz. The Society endeavors to promote appreciation of jazz on the Sewanee campus. It has sponsored a series of concerts on the afternoons of party weekends.

It is with deserved pride that the Society looks back on the notables of jazz whom it has brought to the Mountain. Among them are the Dave Brubeck Quartet, the Modern Jazz Quartet, Mose Allison, Brother Jack McDuff and the Cannonball Adderley Sextet. It is such accomplished artists as these who have drawn lovers of jazz from hundreds of miles away for concerts.

GERMAN CLUB

The German Club is a University-sponsored organization which schedules and promotes the Friday-night dance on Party Weekends. The German Club is composed of two representatives from each fraternity and from the independent men. Its members are renowned for transforming unpretentious Ormond Simkins gymnasium into a colorful ballroom and for wallowing in the red as a result of their tireless efforts to bring much sought-after recording groups to Sewanee.

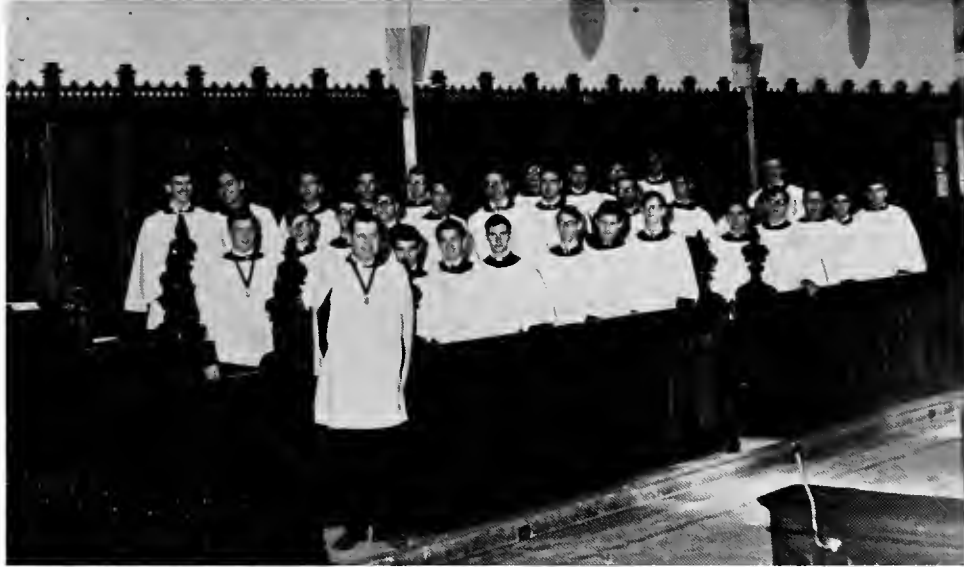

During Homecoming Weekend the Club sponsored the Tams and the Villager's Revue. Besides the Homecoming Weekend, the Club plans and promotes dances on both Mid-Winters and Spring Weekends. Chuck Jackson played for the Mid-Winters Weekend and for Spring the Club combined with the Jazz Society to present the Procol Harum.

Officers this year are Ed Rhett, ATO, Pres., Randy Hansen, DTD, Vice Pres., and Haywood Patton, SAE, Treasurer.

UNIVERSITY CHOIR

The University Choir, directed by Joseph Running, is composed of men in the College of Arts and Sciences who enjoy singing. The main function of the 60-voice group is to lead the congregation in daily and Sunday chapel services, providing liturgical music for these occasions.

The annual Festival of Lessons and Carols, celebrated the Sunday before Christmas Holidays, draws what is probably the largest crowd for any function on campus during the school year.

UNIVERSITY BAND

The University Band is under the direction of Gene Robinson. A brisk Sousa march, or a jazz version of "Dixie," and always "Tiger Rag" could be heard at the home football and basketball games, played by the band. Each Advent, the band assists in the Festival of Lessons and Carols, adding its own contribution to the Christmas season. Finally, in the spring, the band gives a concert of light classical and popular music.

UNIVERSITY GUIDES

The University Guide Association, more familiarly known as the Chapel Guides, is a student organization working under the sponsorship of the Office of Public Relation. The association offers regular tours of All Saints' Chapel each Sunday and arranges tours of the Domain of the University upon request. Members have passed an admissions examination covering aspects of the University's history, details of All Saints' Chapel and historic points of interest on the Domain. During the past year the association gave tours to more than 3,000 people.

STUDENT VESTRY

The All Saints' Chapel Student Vestry is an advisory board to the University Chaplain. Elected by the Order of Gownsmen as one of its standing committees, the Vestry aids and advises the Chaplain primarily in the government and maintenance of the Chapel.

In recent years, the Vestry has also sponsored the annual Inquirer's Class and the Lenten program. By taking advantage of the many interested and talented people on the Mountain, these programs have been appealing and informative and have greatly contributed to the spiritual life of the University Community.

DOUG BAKER
President of Student Vestry

P. Hoch, D. Lodge, C. Westerfield, G. Chamberlain, G. Gignilliat, F. Boulet.

Glen Denkler, Francis Boulet, Phil Ward, Billy Harrison.

BILLY HARRISON
President of Sacristans

SACRISTANS

The University Sacristans are a group of men interested in serving the church on an everyday basis and who profess a more than average interest in church affairs. The sacristans assist in both the Sunday and the daily chapel services at noon. They are responsible for preparing the church for the services and assisting during the services, especially the Communion service. Being a sacristan is one way for students in the University to become more familiar with the work of the church and move on to a career in the service of the church.

DEBATE CLUB

Interest in debate increased this year with a new adviser, Dean Lancaster, and letters to prospective debaters in the freshman class over the summer. The fall was occupied with research and practice sessions, while the second semester was aimed at the tournament circuit. The season was highlighted by tournaments at Columbia University and Memphis State. The debate team looks forward to growing activity in coming years with expansion into intra-college debates and speaker-discussion programs.

Futuris annis evolventibus hanc societatem novam creturam et in res secundas venturam esse vehementer speramus omnes.

WAITERS GUILD

The Waiters' Guild serves the student body at all meals in Gailor Dining Hall. The Guild is composed entirely of students who work three meals a day serving twenty-four students. Membership in the Guild is limited and selection is based on financial need and personal character.

Each waiter is responsible for setting up his assigned two table area with food, waiting on the students in his area, and cleaning the tables completely. It is his duty during the meal to tend to every need of the students in his area and this he does with maximum efficiency.

Carter Lambeth and Parke Keith, Chief and Asst. Chief.

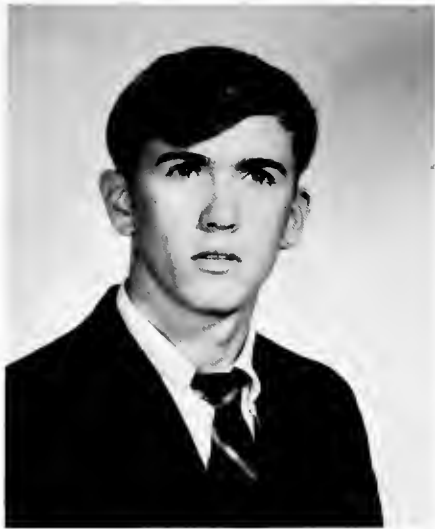

FIRE DEPARTMENT

The Fire Department is a voluntary service organization composed of university students. It plays a quite important role in protecting the Sewanee community.

The Department, under the leadership of Chief Carter Lambeth, is composed of the Red and Blue Teams. The Blue Team is the more experienced and actually enters fires. The Red Team supervises and controls crowds, and offers help to the Blue Team. Bill Fleming and David Norton are team captains.

The SVFD has two trucks, one with radio equipment and 750 feet of hose. Weekly drills with the trucks keep the Department efficient and promote cooperation among the firefighters.

JACK BAKER
President

Forestry Club—C. Oliver, H. Hearn, J. Herndon, J. Baker, R. Kelin, L. Trigg, J. Dolby, B. Alexander.

FORESTRY CLUB

The Sewanee Forestry Club, founded in 1959, was organized in order to promote more active interest in outdoor life and to increase interest and knowledge of forestry as a profession. Membership in the Forestry Club is open to anyone who professes these interests. The club is fortunate in having fine facilities: a club room in the Snowden Forestry Building and a log cabin with a view of the valley from which most outdoor activities originate. In addition, the club members enjoy many fine movies that pertain to forestry and conservation.

Motorcycle Club—C. Munson, J. Strong, D. Delaney, B. Gribben, M. Moran, S. Hooker, D. Wright.

T. PARKER
Head, Motorcycle Club

MOTORCYCLE CLUB

The Sewanee Motorcycle Club was formed early last year in order to maintain and support woods riding for which this area is ideal, and to encourage members' competition in local and regional events. This club has an A. M. A. sanction.

The cycles and members are of almost every breed, from strictly competitive machines, to wood bikes, to the toy. As motorcycles become more and more numerous, the need for such an organization will become apparent.

FRENCH CLUB

Le Cercle Français se réunit chez Fulford par intervalles spasmodiques. On y trouve des divertissements très variés—des projections de transparence, des représentations de pièces modernes, des conférences divers, etc. Ces réunions présentent à l'étudiant l'occasion d'entendre et de pratiquer le français hors de la salle de classe. Les divertissements organisés sont suivis par une période de conversation facilitée par le vin. Selon une tradition célèbre, chaque année se termine par une grande fête gastronomique tout à fait française.

DER DEUTSCHE VEREIN

Der Deutsche Verein hat ein sehr erfolgreiches Jahr gehabt unter der Führerschaft seiner Beamten: Präsident: George Hopkins.

Die Absicht des Vereins ist seine Kenntnisse über das deutschsprechende Europa zu erweitern, das heisst, über Deutschland, Österreich und die Schweiz, ihre Gebräuche, Überlieferungen, Sprache, und kulturelle Bedeutung.

Bis jetzt sind mehrere interessante Programme dargeboten worden, zum Beispiel, eine Rede eines Sewanee Students über seine Sommerarbeit bei den Ford-Werken in Köhn; eine lustige Gesellschaft mit der deutschen Fussballmannschaft aus Huntsville; und die jährliche Feuerbowle, die eine heidnische Feier während der Weihnachtszeit ist und von Professoren und Studenten gut beigewohnt war. Auch dabei waren Fräulein Almut Giesecke, die einige Weihnachtslieder wunderbar gesungen hat, und mehrere Mitglieder der deutschen Luftwaffe, die den Abend sehr erheiterten! (siehe Bild)

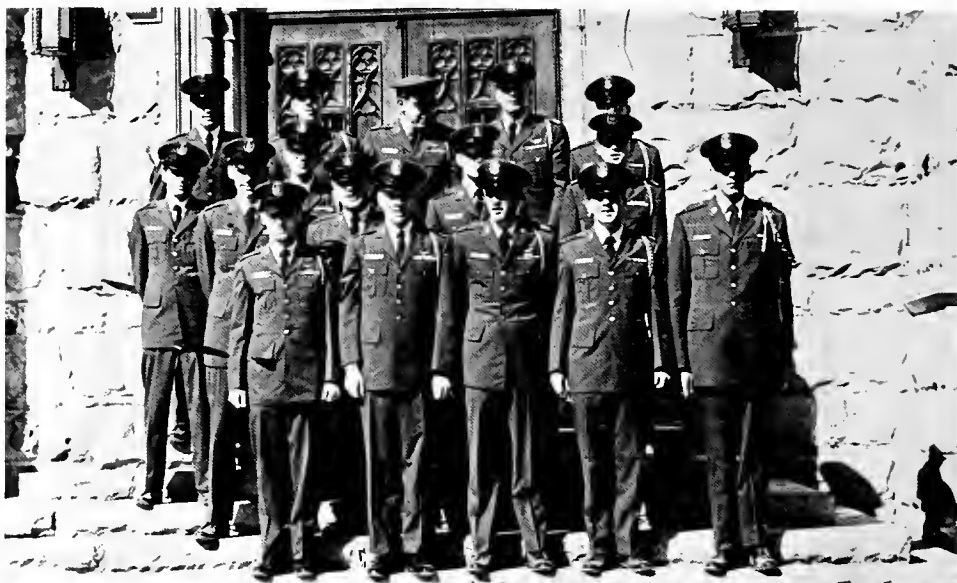

ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY

Founded in September 1947, at the University of Cincinnati, the Arnold Air Society has grown to be an organization with nearly 200 chapters at colleges and universities throughout the United States. Charged with furthering the purposes, missions, traditions and concepts of the U.S. Air Force, with promoting American citizenship, and with creating a closer relationship among ROTC cadets, the Arnold Air Society is now an important part of the ROTC program at Sewanee. Embracing the ideals inspired by General H. H. "Hap" Arnold and Brigadier General M. K. Deichelmann, from whom the local squadron gets its name, the Society sponsors and coordinates the extracurricular activities of the cadet group.

LOS PEONES

The Los Peones returned to the Mountain after a two-year sabbatical provided by the University in September of 1965. After banding together in a joint charter with the other two orders, the Peons returned to their normal colorful life.

According to rumor, the Los Peones were formed under a charter from Isabella in order to bring the new world a bit of the Old World culture, but in actuality the Order came into being in 1948 as the culminating inspiration of a one month grain binge by a group of degenerate students. Being nude at the time they wrapped themselves in curtains and rugs and proceeded to march down the streets of Boys Town, Mexico, screaming "Vivelos M.F." Since this momentous day they have done a commendable job of keeping alive the spirit and tradition of the Spanish-speaking nations.

Contrary to the vicious rumors fabricated by the Wellingtons and the Highlanders, the Peons are an officially organized social order.

Wellingtons—Rhett, Harwell, McCall, Cooper, Burton, Mitch, Hubbard, Parsley, Johnson, Siffy, Burns, Thornton, Gubelmann, Ison, Fishburne, Elam, Wilson, Forster, Coleman, White, Edwards, Jackson, Blount, Patton, Johnston.

HIGHLANDERS

The Highlanders have lived to tell those tales forgone but yet untold. From noble tribes we've wandered far and met upon this Cumberland Plain.

In Sewanee we found this Scotland, and here, ordained by God, our diverse group did form ourselves together. This merry clan is devoted eternally to the search for the highest ideals—fellowship, unity, achievement, and the elusive leprechaun—sobriety. For this we strive, so as to be pleasing to others and thus to ourselves.

God Bless Mary, Queen of Scotch.

Los Peones—Colbert, Basley, Armstrong, Enwall, Callahan, Brush, Wallis, Wasson, Barker, Roberts, Ciannella, Adcock, Boon, Slaten, Knickelbine, Pullen.

WELLINGTONS

The Wellington Club is a society of the Noble Peers of the Realm based on the Medieval English Feudal System. An air of pompous dignity is maintained by blue capes, bowlers, and umbrellas in keeping with our aristocratic background.

Early this year at the Battle of Drinkwater, the Infidel, Deano the Magnificent, was finally repulsed after a two year reign during which the society was forced underground.

The club is ably administered by the Prime Minister, the Lord of Catsborough, and divine blessing is invoked on all by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the more than Reverent Earl of Coal Manor, the Younger, The Lord Chancellor of the Exchequer and Keeper of the Privy Seal, the noble Duke of Burshire, successfully oversees the treasury, still somewhat underground.

Seriously adhered to is the society's motto, inherited from our original forebears:

"Veni, Vidi, Consumpti, Pepti."

Freely translated:

"I came, I saw, I chugalugged, I inwardly digested."

The University Supply Store says

... Congratulations to the Class of '68

on a successful career at Sewanee, and best wishes for a successful career in the real world . . . How would you like to do it again without our NO-DOZ and monarch guides . . . that is why we shall continue carrying such items pro bono '69, '70, '71 . . . to keep people saying "ecce quam bonum hon . . ."
